

Webster's definition of Clutter: A confused multitude of things.

closets

kitchens

garages/storage

offices

Are you surrounded by years of accumulated “stuff”? Do you have everything you need, but just can't find it? Would you love to be able to park your car in the garage again? I have been helping busy families gain back their spaces, freedom and sanity. I work right beside you until your problem areas are clutter-free.

A home that is clean and de-cluttered will increase its value if selling is in your future. Your home can look like it cleans itself.

Testimonials: Here's how my organizing services have helped these clients:

“Lynn worked with me to organize my home office and I was even able to incorporate her organizational methods at the hospital where I work.”

Cindy S

“Lynn helped my 80 year old mother sort and organize 40 years of accumulated stuff so she could move to a retirement home. Lynn's care and compassion made this emotional transition much smoother for our entire family.”

Lori B

“After Lynn worked with me to get all the spaces in my home organized, I had the freedom to take on a major project...to home school my 5th grade son. Without her help, I could never have devoted my time and energy to my son's education. Her services have been invaluable to me.”
